INTERNAL PARTY DEMOCRACY IN NIGERIA

In any political system that allows for internal democracy, party members know the rules, their rights, powers and obligations in selecting their leaders or candidates for the party. The opposite is usually the case where internal democracy is absent.

Internal party democracy cannot thrive in political parties where power is concentrated in one or few leaders, who impose their wishes and preferred candidates on members of the party.

Youth Party condemns CBN's funding of bloated govt, urges urgent steps to reset economy.

The Youth Party has frowned at what it says is the continuous waste of public resources on irrelevant overheads and consumption by the federal government.

The Party, in a statement by its National Chairman, Tomiwa Aladekomo expressed great displeasure at the country's sustenance of government's non-productive recurrent expenditure, unlike other countries of the world that adopt quantitative easing to stimulate the economy.
